The Indian Association of Dermatologists, Venereologists and Leprologists (IADVL) strongly condemns the recent acts of violence against doctors across the country. The association extends support to the demands made by resident doctors for protection at workplaces, especially in emergency situations. It is also noted with regret that punitive actions have still not been initiated against the culprits who perpetrated or abetted such violence against doctors.

The IADVL urges the Government, Police and Judiciary to take cognizance of the alarming situation and initiate appropriate steps to provide adequate protection for doctors in their workplaces. This will mitigate the just concerns of resident doctors and help all doctors provide healthcare services to the community without any fear.
